

Metropolitan Organization to Counter Sexual Assault

Youth with Problematic Sexual Behaviors

MOCSA has the only evidence-based outpatient program for youth with problematic sexual behaviors in the Kansas City Metropolitan area, and is part of a nationally recognized multidisciplinary team.

MOCSA offers a group treatment program designed to help support youth with problematic sexual behaviors and their caregivers to reduce or eliminate problematic sexual behaviors. Children ages 7-14 and caregivers attend separate, group meets for 18-20 weeks, depending on age of child. Currently this program is only available for youth and families in Missouri.

Children will learn:

- Rules for appropriate behaviors
- Impulse control strategies
- Coping skills
- Social Skills

Caregivers will learn:

- How to recognize normal and problematic sexual behaviors
- Helpful responses to behavior problems
- Ways to respond to and prevent sexual behavior problems.

This program has been recognized nationally for its success in treating children.

- 84% of caregivers report improved communication with child.

For more information about assessment and treatment program services, please contact the contact the YPSB Coordinator:

Kristin Kunard - (816) 285-1399 or kkunard@mocsa.org

For more information on Problematic Sexual Behaviors please see the links below:

- National Center on the Sexual Behavior of Youth
- California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare

PDF for Professionals and Parents & Caregivers

- What Happens Now
- What Can We Do
- Taking Action – Support for Families

3100 Broadway,
Suite 400
Kansas City, MO
64111-2591

Main:
(816) 931-4527

Crisis Line:
(816) 531-0233 MO
(913) 642-0233 KS

Updated April 9, 2024

mocsa.org

MOCSA is a United Way partner agency.